I'm Brad Byington. I am running for the Draper City Council to work for your family and mine. As a father of two with one on the way, I am committed to ensuring that the city we love maintains a high quality of life that supports our families and our children—and one that is safe and welcoming for all residents.

After a 16-year career as a U.S. Air Force officer, my family and I put down roots in Draper. I launched a successful small business as a real estate broker, helping families find homes and community along the Wasatch. This experience gives me a deep understanding of balanced growth and the importance of preserving Draper's unique character.

As your city councilmember, I will ensure new development enhances the community, all while maintaining balanced budgets that prioritize essential services like police and fire. My background in military service, as a small business owner, and as a father makes me a dedicated and resourceful advocate for Draper's future. In my free time, I enjoy Utah's beautiful outdoors. From hiking and camping to fishing and hunting to mountain biking and trail running, my family enjoys life outdoors.
